

Privacy Policy:

What personal data is collected and how it is used:

When getting informed or booking an activity we collect data. The contact form will collect name, email and a telephone number. This is collected so that we are able to make use of the information and get back in touch with you.

When booking an activity we collect name, address, email, telephone number, previous experience and relevant medical history as well as the details of an emergency contact for you.

All information which is received by Hand in Hand Adventures will be treated as 'Vital Interest' in terms of GDPR Protection Regulation.

All information received from you will be kept securely and will only be used in connection with your booking.

You have the right to request a copy of the information we hold of you and you also have the right to ask to have the information deleted. You may also correct the information we hold of you.
